

Zebrafish

Girella zebra

Zebrafish, Girella zebra, photo courtesy of Julian Finn.

Zebrafish are schooling fishes recognised by a rounded face, brown V-shaped bands above over silver V-shaped bands below. They are plant eaters, feeding on green and red seaweeds. They typically school in areas of turf algae around rocky reefs. Their closest relatives are Silver Drummers and Buffalo Bream.